

Dear Students! Dear Colleagues!

Over the past 24 hours, colleagues of the UP IT Directorate and the TEAMS faculty group have been working to resolve any technical error experienced in distance education as far as possible. Thanks to their efforts, after yesterday's technical break, online education can be continued today. Thank you for our Students' and Lecturers' patience and understanding!

Thank you for our Colleagues' work!

If you are unable to find your course in TEAMS during distance learning, please let us know at this central email address so that we can help you as soon as possible!
