

Call for applications for Educational Innovation Contest

Leadership, faculty and staff of the University of Pécs, are dedicated to maintain the high standards of education and foster innovation. The training at modern universities cannot be done without the aid of cutting edge technology and the latest methodical achievements. At the University of Pécs, highly motivated professionals are working on the integration of technology into the curriculum and on the implementation of the latest educational methods. In this spirit it is our pleasure to announce the Educational Innovation Contest. The aim of the contest is to provide opportunity and support for all enthusiastic students, faculty members and staff members to participate in the hard work of improving our education at the University of Pécs.

Who is eligible?

All enrolled students, faculty members and staff members of the University of Pécs may submit applications. Applications are accepted both from individuals and from teams. Students, faculty members and staff members may form teams together. This form of application is encouraged.

Aim of the contest:

The aim of the contest is development and implementation of a technological or methodological innovation(s) which may improve and innovate the education. The University of Pécs will provide aid (financial and human resources) in the implementation of the best ideas.

Evaluation:

The evaluation takes place in two phases. In the First Phase („idea phase”) participants are asked to give a brief description of the planned innovation and the expected beneficial effects on the education. The best applications of the first phase will be called in to the Second Phase („application phase”). In this phase participants are asked to provide a detailed plane of the concept with particular stress on the curricular integration, the timetable of the implementation and the required human and material resources.
